

Software QA Manager

World Class Software Product Development

£40k - 50k plus benefits      Location: Woodley, near Reading

Ç-Dilla is the world's leading developer of copy protection and rights management technologies for CD-ROM, DVD and Internet delivered software products. Used by major companies such as Addison Wesley Longman, Lotus Development, Microsoft, Ordnance Survey and the Financial Times, our innovative technologies are at the forefront of one of today's hot application areas - electronic publishing!

Now part of the Macrovision Corporation, the world's leading developer of copy protection technologies for video, audio and consumer multimedia, we are accelerating our development of new products to meet the demands of today's digital revolution.

The quality and reliability of our software products are at the heart of our phenomenal success. As a result, we are expanding our organisation and have created this new position to take responsibility for all software QA issues and the setting of QA policy and strategy for the company. You will also provide guidance to the product development teams on the QA of all software products released into the field, taking an active part in the software testing process as well as mentoring and growing the team. This is a highly influential and visible role which will have a major impact on our future success.

If you can answer 'yes' to some of the following, we would like to hear from you:

- Passionate about software quality ?
- Experienced in using/developing software test tools ?
- Strong management ability ?
- Worked in a software product development organisation ?
- Understand usability ?
- Able to balance the need for product quality with the commercial needs of the business?

Our appetite for continually breaking new ground means that you can look forward to projects that will really challenge you in an informal, flexible working environment where your contribution will be recognised and rewarded.
